NEW SOVIET ATTACK UPON U.S.

CALIFORNIA, OHIO VOTE ON PENSIONS PROGRAM TUESDAY

NUMEROUS OFF-YEAR STATE ELECTIONS SET BUT ISSUES MOSTLY LOCAL

By The Associated Press.

Citizens of California and Ohio gave old-age pension proposals a last once-over today before voting their convictions in tomorrow's off-year elections.

Office seekers in a dozen other states argued largely local issues, with election of mayors in Philadelphia, Detroit, and San Francisco outweighing in political interest campaigns for three seats in the house of representatives and for governors' chairs in Kentucky and Mississippi.

Herbert S. Bigelow, leader of the Ohio pension drive, said last night that if his proposed amendment to the state constitution was defeated, he would draft a revised proposal increasing the taxes for pension payments.

To guarantee every retired Ohioan over 60 a pension of at least $50 a month, Bigelow would collect a tax equal to one-fourth of the federal income tax, and a tax of 2 per cent of the value of all land worth more than $20,000 an acre.

Opponents have argued that his plan would close the schools, put hospitals out of commission, and stop highway work.

$30 Every Thursday.

The pension battle in California centers on a revised "$30 every Thursday" program. An administrator, with some powers over production and distribution, would give "warrants" worth from $15 to $30 to non-workers over 50.

Theoretically, the scrip would circulate as money, but whoever held it at the end of each week would be required to attach a two-cent stamp tax to each dollar's worth. At the end of a year, the scrip (having collected $1.04 in taxes) could be exchanged for

Deficit in State General Fund Set New Record High

AUSTIN, Nov. 6.—(AP)—The deficit in the state's general revenue fund soared to a record-shattering new high of $23,578,086 today but Comptroller George H. Sheppard assuringly reported there still remained an over-all balance of $12,789,645 in the treasury the first of this month.

Treasurer Charley Lockhart said the general fund account climbed $1,235,875 further into the red after setting a new all-time high 17 days ago, the first since December of last year.

Besides the general revenue fund, the comptroller's balance sheet of Oct. 31 showed the Confederate pension and state old age pensions accounts with deficits, the latter amounting to $1,986,530 and representing money borrowed from a Dallas bank. Amortization of the loan recently caused pension payments to drop $6 each.

The treasurer reported outstanding general revenue warrants amounted to $24,260,272 and cash on hand to pay them $682,185. He called in for payment warrants issued before Feb. 3, 1939, totaling $50,733. The new call number was 104,749.

New accounts added to the comptroller's list included the real estate license fund with $13,621; liquified petroleum gas fund, $7,719; federal old age administration fund, $28,331, and federal wildlife aid fund, $10,589.

New Trade Pact With Venezuela Signed Monday

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—(AP)—The state department announced today the signing at Caracas of a trade agreement between United States and Venezuela.

The agreement is the 22nd negotiated by the United States and the 11th to be concluded with American republics.

Details will be announced later today.

The state department disclosed that the general provisions and the schedules of concessions will enter provisionally into force December 16, pending ratification of the agreement by the Venezuelan government.

The agreement will enter into force 30 days after exchange of the instrument of ratification of the Venezuelan government and the proclamation of the agreement by President Roosevelt. It will remain in force until December 15, 1942.

The state department's announcement said:

"Concessions, including bindings (keeping tariff rates at their present figures), obtained from Venezuela cover such important American exports to that country as wheat, flour, oatmeal, prepared milks, hog lard, lumber, iron and steel products, automotive products an daccessories, radios, refrigerators, engines, pharmaceutical products and paints. These products represented in 1938 about 36 per cent of total United States exports to Venezuela, or about $19,000,000 out of $52,000,080.

"Concessions granted to Venezuela include a reduction of 50 per cent in the import tax on

BRITISH MILITARY EXPERTS DISCUSS BOMBING OPERATION

SEE NO GREAT DANGER FROM THIS SOURCE UNTIL CONVOYS DEVELOPED

LONDON, Nov. 6.—(AP)—British military experts predicted today that large-scale, long-range bombing attacks in this war would await development of "distance" fighting convoys.

These sources contended that Germany's few "exploratory" raids on Britain's naval anchorages had proved that bombers not in convoy were too vulnerable to fast attack planes for profitable mass bombing forays.

The average fighting plane, it was said, might have a range of 650 miles without fueling. It is about 300 miles from the British Isles to Germany. This is too far, it was said, for a safe margin for maneuvering of invading fighting planes.

The Germans have raided the Firth of Forth and Scapa Flow while the British have attacked the German naval base at Kiel. Generally the bombers were unescorted. From available accounts—British and German—one expert said it appeared that about one-third of the bombers were lost.

"This average," said the tactician, "was too high for really profitable operations when you consider the importance of machinery in such a war as this and the difficulties of replacement."

He added that "most of us believe that en masse long-range bombing will wait until the fighters catch up in their staying abilities with the bombers."

One development on the home front was the stoning of Sir Oswald Mosley's automobile last night after the fascist leader had told a crowd, "we want peace because we want to get on with our job of building up the British em-

GERMANS DECLARE LIFTING OF EMBARGO 'UNNEUTRAL' ACT

INTIMATE THAT AN INTENSIFIED SEA WARFARE MAY BE CONSEQUENCE

BERLIN, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Disappointment over the fact that the United States' vast war reserves were made available to the allies by repeal of the arms embargo act became apparent today from the tone of morning paper editorials and inspired pronouncements.

Nevertheless, comment on the United States' action in lifting the embargo was somewhat restrained, but intensified sea warfare appeared a likely consequence.

The implication was that congress failed to establish that neutrality which President Roosevelt claimed was the purpose of the legislation sponsored by himself. The word "unneutral," however, was not directly used.

All commentators drew parallels between the action of congress and earlier utterances of Mr. Roosevelt and Secretary of State Hull.

"American arms have been made available to our enemies," informed persons commented, "but these materials will have to get past our raiders."

These sources also intimated in view of the loss of the United States freighter City of Flint—taken from a German prize crew and handed over by Norweigian authorities to her American personnel—that Germany would deal more sternly with contraband shipments.

On the western front there was "somewhat livelier reconnoitering

MERCY SLAYING AND SUICIDE REPORTED CLEVELAND POLICE

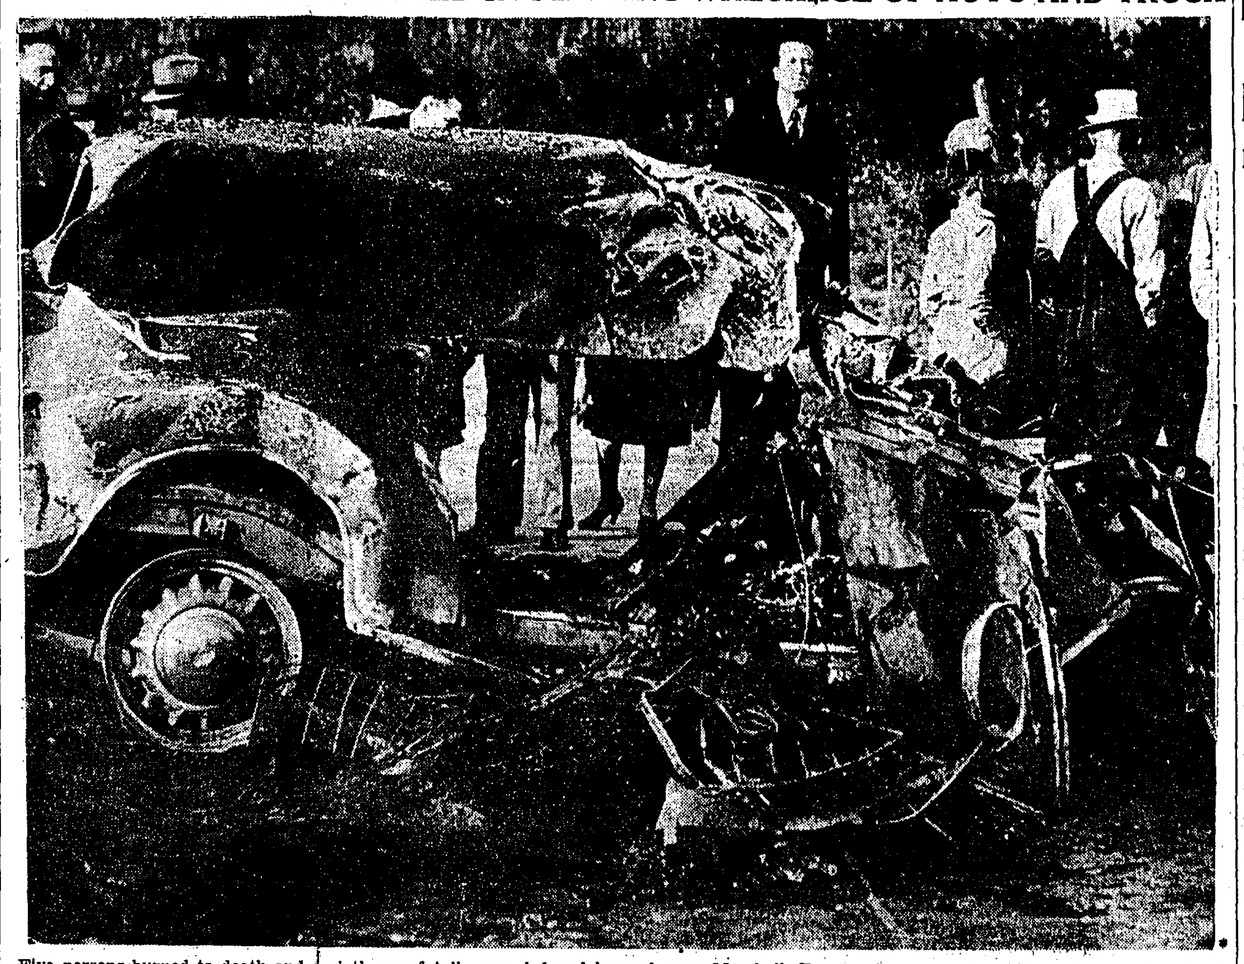

CLEVELAND, Nov 6.—(AP)—Police Detective Ralph Kennedy described today as a mercy slaying and suicide the case of David J. Jenkins, 69, and his invalid only child, Mrs. Florence Covert, 40, found shot to death in her bedroom.

The bodies were discovered yesterday afternoon by her husband, Stanley, 43, upon his return from an automobile ride.

Covert said his wife had been ill most of her life and was bedridden most of the last two years.

Both Jenkins and his daughter were shot in the head with a .38 calibre revolver.

MICHIGAN PRISON BREAK FOILED BUT GUARD WAS KILLED

WOMAN VISITOR WOUNDED; SIX LONG-TERMERS INVOLVED

JACKSON, Mich., Nov. 6.—(AP)—A melodramatic Sunday afternoon prison break, foiled only after a guard was killed and a woman visitor wounded by stray shot, prompted a state investigation today at Southern Michigan penitentiary.

In 50 minutes packed with all the elements of a movie thriller, five robbers and a rapist gained access to the prison roof and in the action that followed a guard was shot dead, a prison yard football game hurriedly called off, and all six felons captured.

Presumably timing their plot to coincide with the football game, the six overpowered two guards and a prison officer.

By the time five had clambered down a crude ladder of rope and pipe, the alarm was sounded and the prison exercise lot, where 3,000 convicts watched the game, had been ordered cleared.

Three of the fleeing felons—Sam Sawaya, 26, and George Bodle, 28, robbers, and Malcolm Stokes, rapist—dashed into a guard's car. Chief Guard Inspector Fred Boucher, 54, tried to halt them, and was killed by a shot gun blast.

A second shot went wild, and Mrs. Dorothy Roberts of Kalamazoo, visitor at the prison, was struck in the face by a pellet. She was only slightly hurt.

The three in the car sped off, leaving their fellow-conspirators behind. A chase of a mile and a half ended with their surrender after Deputy Warden Gleen Carpenter's revolver shot tore open a tire on the fugitives' machine.

Meanwhile, guards captured Paul Lawman, 33, and John L. Sullivan, 35, both serving robbery terms, near the prison wall, and Leo Thifault, 24, also a robber,

FUTURE OF AMERICAN FREIGHTER IS STILL MYSTERY SHROUDED

CITY OF FLINT IDLED AT ANCHOR MONDAY STILL IN NORWEGIAN PORT

OSLO, Norway, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Her freedom assured by Norway's rejection of German protests, the United States freighter City of Flint idled at anchor today awaiting a decision where her strange voyage would take her next.

It was apparent that Norwegian officials, anxious over the possibility that Germany might make an issue over the case, would like to see the ship outside Norwegian waters bound for anywhere.

Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, United States minister to Norway, was expected to confer at Bergen today with the United States consul there, Maurice P. Dunlap, and Captain Joseph A. Gainard, master of the City of Flint.

The possibility was mentioned in shipping circles that the freighter's cargo of tractors, leather, fruit, wax and other articles might first be transferred to a British ship and taken to England.

The freighter's freedom and the internment of the Nazi prize crew which took command of her on the Atlantic Oct. 9 was assured

O'DANIEL INDICATES NO SPECIAL SESSION UNLESS PLEDGE MADE

WANTS SENATE AND HOUSE MAJORITIES TO COMMIT THEMSELVES ON TAXES

AUSTIN, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Representatives Bailey Ragsdale of Crockett and Henry G. Lehman of Giddings began work today on an omnibus tax bill which they will submit to fellow members of the legislature in the hope of bringing about a special legislative session.

Governor W. Lee O'Daniel stated yesterday that he would call a session if majorities of both houses and senate would pledge their support in advance to a specific proposal which would raise enough money to finance fully a broad social security program. Many legislators were of the opinion his terms could not be met.

Clint C. Small of Amarillo, dean of the senate, voiced the opinion there would be no special session.

"I believe the legislature would pass a bill raising several millions in additional revenue," Small said, "but there's no chance of passage of a thirty-five million dollar bill." The governor said yesterday that "thirty-five or forty millions a year or more" was needed to finance social security.

Ragsdale said the bill on which he was working was similar to the

PREDICTED ALLIES TO USE GOLD ASSETS TO BUY MUNITIONS

INITIAL ORDERS OF FRANCE AND BRITAIN EXPECTED TO REACH BILLION DOLLARS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Government circles predicted today that Britain and France would use the gold portion of their estimated $5,000,000,000 assets in the United States for their first "cash and carry" purchases of American airplanes and other war supplies.

Initial allied orders under the uew neutrality law have been estimated by some officials as high as $1,000,000,000—all of which must be paid before the goods leave the country.

Use of their American securities and other assets was expected to be postponed in the hope of getting better prices and conserving as much as possible of their American investments.

Gold, which can be sold quickly at the United State treasury at the fixed prices of $35 an ounce, is the easiest method of payment. Furthermore, the British and French already have perhaps as much as $500,000,000 in gold deposited in New York and Canada.

Officials aren't worrying about the allies dumping their securities on American markets in any way that might depress prices.

"They aren't crazy enough to sell in a way thath would reduce the proceeds of the sales," said one high official.

REPEAL OF EMBARGO ON ARMS ONLY MASK FOR PROFIT STRUGGLE

BRITAIN AND FRANCE ALSO ASSAILED BY MOLOTOFF OPENING CELEBRATION

MOSCOW, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Premier-Foreign Commissar Vyacheslaff Molotoff today assailed the United States for repealing the arms embargo asserting it was "only a mask to cover their struggle for profit."

In a speech opening a three-day celebration of the Bolshevik revolution's 22nd anniversary, Molotoff also attacked Britain and France, accusing the mof wishing to prolong their war against Germany.

Joseph Stalin, War Commissar Marshal Klementi Voroshiloff and other leaders weer among those in Bolshoy opera house who applauded his words which included a sweeping attack on capitalism.

The premier spoke shortly after publication of a communist international manifesto calling on workers of Britain and France to "go against those who favor continuation of imperialistic war."

Molotoff, asserting that half the world is at war because of a conflict in Europe, declared the capitalistic system was sure to fall now.

He said the workers and peasants no longer would put up with capitalists, especially those who want to fight under the pretext of "defense of democracy."

The Soviet Union wants peace, he said.

Molotoff boasted of improvement in the Soviet Union's diplomatic and military importance and of strides in her industrial and agricultural output during the current year.

Not Afraid of Anything.

"We do not know what catastrophe may happen, but we always have to develop the defense of our country," he said. "We are not afraid of anything. We know that our country is the best, our policy is the policy of peace and we will go the same way in the future, which will bring us to final victory."

The premier declared that the

PREDICTION MADE THAT NEXT CONGRESS TO BRING ECONOMIC PRESSURE AGAINST JAPANESE

By WILLIAM B. ARDERY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—(AP)—A prediction that the 1940 congress might follow up the administration's neutrality program, now in full operation, by authorizing economic pressure against Japan was made today by legislative leaders.

Chairman Pittman (D.-Nev.) of the senate foreign relations committee said that unless relations with Tokyo improve before the Japanese-American commercial treaty expires Jan. 26, congress undoubtedly would enact his resolution empowering the president to embargo "any or all" exports to Japan.

"It is entirely fair that Japan should be warned of the Ides of January," Pittman said. "Her entire attitude in China has been in total disregard of the rights of the United States and other countries."

Pittman was in the small group of congressmen Saturday who saw President Roosevelt sign the neutrality bill repealing the arms embargo and setting up a "cash and carry" system of trade with warring nations. The legislation does not apply to the undeclared Sino-Japanese conflict, however, because President Roosevelt never has found formally that a state of war exists in the Orient.

After signing the neutrality measure, the chief executive immediately exercised the discretionary powers it gave him to designate most European waters as a combat area which American ships and travelers could not enter. He also ordered that belligerent submarines keep away from American ports, except in cases of emergency.

By signing the bill, Mr. Roosevelt cleared the way for a flood of arms orders from Europe's belligerents, especially Great Britain and France.

All the goods will have to be transported in foreign ships.

After putting the neutrality program into effect, Mr. Roosevelt went to Hyde Park, N. Y., to vote tomorrow. Most members of congress also returned to their homes, to remain until the regular 1940 session begins Jan. 3.

FURTHER UNFOLDING EUROPEAN SITUATION INDICATES HITLER MUST SHOW SKILL OR LOSE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The [illegible] the European imbroglio unfolds itself the more evident does it become that Nazi Leader Hitler's staggering gambie in his conquest of Poland will call for all the uncany skill he has shown in previous coups if he is to avoid coming a cropper.

Developments in the few weeks since the start of the conflict make it difficult to see how, unless he can win a quick war (the much advertised blizkrieg), he can avoid politico-economic losses in Eastern Europe which which would turn victory into virtual defeat.

These developments relate principally to the Russian and Italian raids into his preserves.

Mussolini pointed the situation up at the week-end by overhauling and strengthening his army. While not officially explained, this undoubtedly is calculated not only to bolster Italy's neutrality but to ensure her place in the Balkans and the Mediterranean zone.

Herr Hitler's trouble started when he drew an Anglo-French war which he hadn't expected and didn't want. Then his new friend, Comrade Stalin of Russia, having given him a push into the conflict with the allies, proceeded to annex Poland, seize control [illegible] the Baltic states, and reach for domination of the Balkans.

The Balkans in particular have, of course, figured for years in Hitler's great dream of expansion to the east- an imperial vision which the ex-Kaiser and other German leaders had before him.

There has been nothing Hitler could do about this unforseen stroke of bad luck, owing to his involvement with the Anglo-French brotherhood. He is too smart to invite the Muscovites to mortal combat while he has England and France on his hands.

Now to complicate matters [illegible] comes Signor Mussolini and gives the Berlin Rome axis such a head [illegible] look badly damaged, if not broken.

NATIONAL DAVIDS

It may be, as Walter Lippmann suggests in a recent article, that the little neutral nations of Europe will win the war. They may do it by maintaining their neutrality and quietly defying war-makers.

A few months ago, or even a few weeks ago, this might have been an absurd suggestion. But the big drama does seem to be changing before our eyes, as small democracies with the moral support of the big democracies are emboldened to stand on their borders firmly against aggression.

Call the roll of them. On the North and Baltic Seas are Finland, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, and the smaller and less sturdy Esthonia, Latvia and Lithuania. Then to the west of Germany are vigorous Holland and Belgium, with never-conquered Switzerland to the southwest. In the southeast, the big block of little Balkan nations, Hungary, Rumania, Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Greece, rapidly growing together in a new spirit of self-defense. And then sturdy Turkey holding the eastern end of the Mediterranean and the gateway to the Black Sea.

Even Hitler and Stalin have begun to pause in the presence of these unexpected obstacles. The conquest of Europe today seems much harder than it did last summer. The Davids are beginning to call the bluffs of the Goliaths.

SINEWS OF WAR

According to Washington estimates, Great Britain and France have nearly $5,000,000,000 available in this country for war supplies. Nearly $3,000,000,000 of that is said to be in long and short term credits, and the rest in foreign gold and other funds and securities stowed here.

It need not be assumed, though, that the expected repeal of the arms embargo will dump those billions immediately into the already boiling pot of American business. From all accounts, the situatiton in England and France, especially in the former country, is very different from the early days of the last war. They are already producing war materials for themselves in far greater quantities than in 1914 and 1915. And Britain is planning a great industrial development in Canada, which may become the main British source of armament if the German bombing planes wreck too many English factories.

Large quantities of American war materials and equipment are likely to go to England and France in any case, if the war lasts; but evidently no such frenzied war boom need be expected as we had last time. And nearly all of us agree that we'll be better off without such a boom. There are ample grounds for American prosperity in supplying the normal needs of ourselves and other countries.

Some highbrow says Hitler "was a historical necessity." If so, he has served his purpose and the world could probably wobble along without him now.

Bernard Shaw continues fulminating against England, and instead of putting him in a concentration camp the government just says, "Oh, Shaw!"

Really, are any of these new poets so good as our old friend "Anonymous?"

DEATH TALKS ABOUT MAN.
Said Death: "Were alone
I to toil at my trade
No such harvests were known
As I reap by man's aid.

"My weapons are few
And my patience is great.
For the ends I pursue
I am willing to wait.

"I strike with disease,
Age and chance, as I can,
But long added to these
Are the hatreds of man.

As if for death's call
They weren't willing to wait."

FREER NEW WORLD TRADE

There is such a wonderful opportunity for trade expansion in Latin America, says Col. Frank Knox, publisher of the Chicago Daily News, that "this is no time to putter about with discussions of trade relations elsewhere."

He thinks we should make South America "an economic part of our system, just as it is today an invaluable part of our national defense." And although a life-long believer in protection, says the Colonel, he is convinced that "the present crisis and our future needs would be advanced by a approximation of what should be free trade with that great area," a continent still awaiting economic development. It can be ours for friendly, co-operative development, he believes, if we remove trade barriers.

Few of our people would want to go so far as literal "free trade." But much might be done by reciprocal agreements of one kind and another to let down the bars and stimulate production and trade in the vast areas of Central and South America. There, perhaps, is our last American frontier, with incalculable resources, promising riches in production and trade for the people now occupying it and for North Americans who may co-operate with them as investors, traders and importers.

In all such efforts, however, it is important that there shall be no attempt at dictation or coercion. The other Americas are sensitive, and will deal with us only on a basis of complete independence and self-respect.

CAREER - CHOOSING

Ten years ago, when employment surveys were begun at City College in New York, the majority of freshmen named teaching as their first choice in occupations. Today the first choice is engineering. Teaching is second, accounting third and medicine fourth.

Dr. Daniel F. Brophy, director of the college, attributes the change not to preference but to the belief that there are now more openings in engineering and fewer in the teaching profession.

Perhaps it is unfortunate that the economic situation must determine such choices. In an ideal social system, no doubt, choice of career would be based entirely on natural inclination and fitness for a job, and training would be sought accordingly.

MORE FOR YOUR MONEY

One of the notable trends of these times, economically, is shown in the figures for automobile prices during the last three decades. The auto people have been telling the public how progress in their industry has resulted in a downward trend of prices which, in the perspective of a generation, is almost incredible.

Car prices, they say, have fallen so that a motorist can buy three cars now for the price he formerly had to pay for one. And not only that, but the car he buys for one-third of the price will be a much better car. Even the cheap cars nowadays have improvements never dreamed of 20 or 30 years ago, and therefore not available then for any price.

This is true in general, not only of automobiles, but of refrigerators, stoves, furnaces and all sorts of necessaries and conveniences for home, office, store, factory and general living requirements. Technically and industrially, there has been amazing progress, especially in the last ten years.

The depression itself has helped push us forward so much, in the matter of better materials and quality with lower prices, that economically these hard years might almost be said to pay for themselves in the improvements they brought.

"APPLE FOR THE TEACHER"

AIR-WAVE FOLLIES

If you're not tuning in on worldwide, all-wave broadcasts these evenings, says an American radio authority, you are missing a lot of fun. The greatest battle of the air so far seems to be the verbal interchange by radio.

For example, there are the German broadcasts to the United States, urging us to remain "neutral"—for our own good, of course. The German broadcasters suggest that we write to our congressmen about it. Then they acknowledge letters from American writers which tell of the "bad points" of a free press and other weaknesses of democracy.

In the meantime, the hurler of verbal shots in England is busy telling the Germans—in good German speech—what a lot of falsehoods they have fallen for. He quotes generously from Hitler's one published work, and from his successive speeches of the last three or four years, to show how many promises he has broken and how many times he has contradicted himself and betrayed faith put in him.

So it goes, from capital to capital. Sometimes weather conditions interfere—as they interfere even with air raids and combat on the Western Front. Sometimes one powerful station deliberately jams the broadcasts of an enemy station, so that static is all the listening world receives.

No doubt all this is fun for a while, but listeners will become so bored or so cynical that none of the stuff will prove effective. Probably the best propaganda any of these stations could indulge right now would be to send out over the ether more amusing entertainment or honest talks on current events.

There's more talk now of Mexico and Uncle Sam patching up their relations. Since the war shut off her market, Mexico has plenty of oil to pour on the troubled waters.

OLD MAN RIVER ALMOST STOPS ROLLING ON AT NEW ORLEANS; SALT WATER ENTERS CITY MAINS

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 3.—(AP)—Salt water from the 110-mile distant Gulf of Mexico flowed through New Orleans city water mains today for the second time in more than forty years and speckled trout were being caught at the foot of Canal street for the first time in memory.

Due to prolonged drought through its entire watershed, the Mississippi has reached an almost record low and gulf tides flowed into the long delta channel. The city's water supply is taken from the river. Authorities said the salt content is yet below government requirements. The mains were saline for a time in 1936.

The ordinarily tawny river which rushes millions of tons of yellow clay and black soil past New Orleans annually has turned a placid gulf blue, its surface dropping far below the levee tops that line its banks for hundreds of miles northward.

River men believed the river would drop still lower unless unexpected rains come in the watershed, stretching from the Yellowstone to Pittsburgh. Veteran river men claim they've never before seen the river at an absolute calm, with scarcely a ripple of movement.

The low stage, at some points breaking records set in 1895, has severely handicapped barge and steamer traffic, stopped night service and forced carriers to lighten their loads on boats operating as far north at Cairo, Ill.

Larger boats have been tied up, and some docks north of here have been rendered useless by low water.

POLITICAL ARMISTICE NEAR BREAKING POINT AS REPEAL IS VOTED

EFFORTS TO KEEP UNITED STATES OUT OF WAR BI-PARTISAN IN SPIRIT

By W. B. RAGSDALE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—(AP)—The political armistice, somewhat formally decreed a couple of months ago, was not far from the breaking point by the time the house voted to repeal the arms embargo.

The armistice had received the endorsement of many powerful republicans. The party's 1938 national nominees gave it their blessing. The senate debated the neutrality measure seriously and in a non-partisan manner. A third of the republican senators voted for repeal. Among them were Taft of Ohio and Bridges of New Hampshire, contenders for the next presidential nomination.

The republican national committee exercised great restraint in its publicity. The only quotations it circulated on foreign policy were by dissenting democrats. The only complaints it voiced against the democratic program were aimed at domestic policies. The nearest it came to touching on foreign policy was a big, black-faced line across the bottom of its weekly publicity sheet:

"Keep the United States out of war."

Rep. Martin of Massachusetts, the republican house leader, was no less restrained in his actions on the floor. As the minority leader, he helped arrange for time to debate the neutrality measure. After that, he all but vanished. He did not take part in the debate in deference to what had been said about a political truce.

Few signs of partisanship showed up in the actual words spoken in debate. Yet the line of cleavage could be seen clearly from the galleries. A man who spoke for repeal could depend on getting applause from the democratic side. An opponent would get a good hand from the republicans.

So it happened that a republican repealist would be applauded by democrats and a democratic opponent would have to look to the republicans for the word "applause" to fill the parenthesss at the end of his speech in the congressional record. But the house stenographers are veterans. A handclap doesn't have to be plural for them to spell applause.

One of the clearest hints provided by the debate came from Rep. Gifford of Massachusetts, a veteran republican member, who felt constrained to argue against the arms embargo, and to explain that it was a deviation from party lines which he rarely made.

"I know the great majority on my sidde of the house will differ with me today," he said.

A clue to the later house votes showed up in the first roll call Tuesday, even before the debate started. The parliamentary procedure recommended by the administration was adopted by a 6-vote majority.

On that roll call, 231 democrats and four republicans voted to take up the bill, debate it and send it to conference with the senate. One hundred fifty-five republicans and 20 democrats voted against this. One farmer-laborite and an American laborite joined in voting for; two progressives voted against.

On this first vote, three of the four republicans who thought differently from their colleagues were from New England; the fourth was from California. Eight of the democrats who departed from their party were from the middle west, ten from the east, and two from the far west.

North American has yet to fill 10 per cent of its $14,000,000 British order for 400 single-motored combat and training ships and 25 per cent of an $8,000,000 order for 150 similar craft for France.

AMERICAN INDUSTRY MORE ACTIVE THAN ANY TIME SINCE 1929

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—(AP)—The federal reserve board announced today that American industry was rolling out products at the fastest pace since 1929 and probably would continue at as rapid a gait until the end of the year at least.

At the same time Secretary of Commerce Hopkins said that wholesale trade during the first nine months of the year aggregated $15,000,000,000, an incerase of $1,000,000,000 over the corresponding period of 1938.

Figures from the bureau of domestic and fireign commerce showed that half the wholesale gain was accounted for in July, August and September September sales of wholesalers were 16 1-2 per cent higher than in September, 1938.

The reserve board tempered its optimism with the comment that "unless there is considerable increase in the consumption of goods, the accumulation of inventories which is now under way is likely to reach substantial proportions."

This meant that, unless people and businesses buy and use up newly-produced goods faster than they now are doing, factories soon might reach the point of shutting down temporarily to get rid of all their present stocks.

However, moderate increases in retail sales and plant expansion, together with continued active residential construction, also were reported.

The board estimated the October rate of production at 120 per cent of the 1923-25 average, compared with a revised figure of 111 (formerly given as 110) for September, 92 for the low of 1939 months of April and May, and 96 in October, 1938.

"Industrial output, employment and payrolls," the board said in its monthly bulletin, "have shown further rapid advances following the buying wave and rise in prices that began with the outbreak of war."

SPENCER-STEWART LED SCORERS WITH THREE TOUCHDOWNS

AERIAL AND SENSATIONAL GROUND ATTACK WAS UNREELED BY BENGALS

By PAUL MOORE
Sun Sports Editor

Paced by Wallace Spencer and Roy Stewart, starting halfbacks, and with the line and other backs playing highly acceptable and effective football, the Corsicana Tigers Friday night bounded back into the high scoring picture of the district with a 59-6 decision over the Waxahachie Indians.

Spencer raced for three touchdowns and converted five times, then played a bang-up defensive contest and passed to several other touchdowns. He brought his session score to 104 points.

The Bengals excelled the visiting aggregation in all departments of play. After a comfortable margin had been rolled up, all substitutes not on the injured list saw service.

The smallest crowd of the season witnessed the melee.

The Corsicana band and pep squad went through their fine performances and drills during the half intermission.

Spencer's Jaunts

Soon after the contest started Spencer broke through guard, darted away at an angle, uncorked some fancy running and traveled 78 yards for a touchdow. He converted. A short time later in the first period, the Waxahachie punter made an error that Waco did not make last week. Waxahachie punted, and gathering the ball in on his 18-yard stripe, Spencer staged a changing of pace, darting, sidestepping and other tactics peculiar to himself and away he shot down the sidelines for the marker after negotiating 82 yards. That ended the first period scoring.

Spencer flipped a pass to Beale in the second that was good for 35 yards and to the Waxahachie 17-yard stripe. Spencer picked up 7 an Stewart made 2. Spencer left his interference that went to the right and outdistanced the Ellis countians to the left for the touchdown, but missed the conversion.

Corsicana gained the ball later in the period on her own 40-yard stripe and after the backs had alternated in putting the ball down the field, Spencer passed to Stewart for 24 yards behind the goal line for a touchdown and then Spencer converted.

Sutton Again Starred

Kenward Sutton, playing his customary all-district type of end performance, broke through to down the supposed kicker on fourth down on the Waxahachie 13. Andrews hit the line for 7 and then drove over on the next play for the touchdown with Spencer converting to give Corsicana a 33-0 lead at the half.

Gaining the ball early in the third period and after driving down to the 31-yard line, Spencer dropped back and passed to Sutton for a touchdown. A bad punt by Waxahachie later in the game gave Corsicana the ball on the Waxahachie 12 from which point Taylor on a tricky formation, circled end for the marker and Spencer converted. The reason Waxahachie was in a tough spot was that Spencer had punted 56 yards to the Waxahachie 7 where it was killed.

Waxahachie Intercepted

The Bengals apparently were touchdown-bound against in the third, but Hal Curry, fleet Waxahachie back, came charging by and intercepted a pass, then outdistanced the Bengals for a 96 yard jaunt for the only counter for the visitors.

Early in the fourth, Waxahachie stopped a local drive by recovering a fumble. Taking the ball on the Corsicana 37, the Bengals ran back into striking distance. Spencer apparently was hopelessly trapped when no passers were in the open—but fading back until his mates could form interference, he then sidstepped, ran and pulled his way back from his apparent 20 yard loss to a 24-yard gain to the Waxahachie 20.

Stewart In Form.

Taylor made 8 and then Spencer passed, the ball striking a Corsicana and Waxahachie player, and bounding off over the goal where Stewart gathered it in his arms before it struck the ground for a touchdown. Spencer converted.

Stewart received a 17-yard pass for the final counter.

Gathright made several fine gains. Weatherby, guard; Prewitt, center, and Plyler, tackle, played outstanding games while Levy and other linesmen acquitted themselves well.

The Corsicana line demonstrated a marked superiority over the Indians, while the pass defense of the Tigers was much improved. The Indian signal-caller after a few minutes of play decided the Bengal line could not be successfully met with a ground game and took to the air, flinging pass after pass. Turner and Curry were the most consistent backs of the visitors.

Many Trucks In Valley Area Hope To Escape Law

EDINBURG, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Somewhere along a 100-mile stretch of U. S. Highway 281 today between 100 and 200 trucks loaded with citrus fruit were reported parked, their drivers hoping cold weather or physical exhaustion would drive state inspectors, seeking to enforce the 7,000-pound truck load limit, off the roads.

The truckers were dealt a blow yesterday when one driver, John Steger, who works for Poul Bird of Omaha, Neb., was fined $1.00 and costs in justice court, at Fremont. Steger made bond and his attorneys appealed to Jim Wells county court. He was found by a jury to have had over 30,000 pounds of fruit on his truck.

Attorneys for the Growers and Shippers Protective League are mapping plans by which they hope to open the only paved South Texas highway to uninterrupted use of the trucks.

The truckers claim they can not haul 7,000 pounds profitably and also are unable to pay numerous fines for the privilege of crossing Texas to up country citrus markets.

COUPLE OF DISTRICT FAVORITES TOPPLED OVER FRIDAY NIGHT

By The Associated Press.

Two district favorites were toppled and the undefeated, untied list was cut to seven teams in a rousing round of upsets in the Texas schoolboy football race last night.

Electra, who had been generally conceded the District Two title fell before often-beaten Olney 20-14 and McAllen, the Heralded Rio Grande Valley power, succumbed to Brownsville 6-0. Both had been unbeaten and untied.

Electra slid out of first place in District Two with Childress, which was idle, taking over the top. Brownsville became the outstanding favorite to take the district 16 lower bracket title.

Of the other unbeaten, untied teams Sweetwater crushed Stephenville 47-14, El Paso High downed Mexico City YMCA college 14-12 and Livingston beat Galveston 19-6 to remain co-favorite with South Park (Beaumont) for the district 14 title. South Park, Gainesville, Breckenridge and Austin did not have games.

Waco's Tigers showed crushing power in smashing Bryan 67-18 in the march toward the Central Texas crown and Lufkin beat Mexia 27-6 in an important District 12 game.

Six games are scheduled today and tonight, the outstanding tilt being at Dallas where Woodrow Wilson plays Adamson in what is considered the title contest of District 8. Lubbock plays Borger in District 1, San Jacinto meets Sam Houston in the Houston district, Orange meets Port Arthur in district 14, Robstown engages Jefferson (San Antonio) in an interdistrict tilt and Austin (El Paso) plays Cathederal (El Paso) in a non-conference exhibiti n.

HIGGINS TALLIED FOUR TIMES LEAD SPREE OF SCORING

ELLIS COUNTY ELEVEN ALLOWED ONLY ONE FIRST DOWN ON GARITTY FIELD

By CHARLTON GUNTER
Sun Sports Staff

Combining a powerful running attack with a very effective aerial campaign, the State Home Lads maintained their place among the district leaders by trouncing the Ferris High School Yellowjackets 53-0 on Garitty Field Friday night, holding the visitors to a lone first down chalked up early in the first period.

Attempting to hold down the frequent scoring, Coach Loudermilk used almost every available man on his Lad squad Friday night but the numerous substitutions had little effect as the local gridiron machine tallied in every quarter.

Higgins, diminutive State Home quarterback, a neat ground gainer and effective on either end of a forward pass, was the leading point maker with four touchdowns to his credit. Fullback Whitley made two, Thomas one, and Phelps, rugged tackle, recovered a fumble on an attempted punt for another. The visitors failed to even threaten the Lad goal line.

Fifteen First Downs.

In piling up the fifty-three points, the local chalked up a total of fifteen first downs, many of them on cutbacks and reverses good or twenty or more yards at a try. The Lads completed eleven out of twenty-two passes for an even hundred yards, including three for points after touchdowns; they had one intercepted and ten incomplete.

The Yellowjackets attempted eighteen passes, completed none, and had four intercepted. Crawford at center, Wilson and Witherspoon, backs, were defensive standouts for the visitors, but their offense was never permitted to get under way by a hard charging Lad line and an alert secondary that batted down or intercepted every pass attempt.

Second Early

State Home took the opening kickoff deep in their own territory and raced it back to their own 45-yard line. On four plays Sharpe and Thomas took the ball to the Ferris 4-yard line but the coring attempt failed. Two plays later, the Lads regained possession of the ball on the visitor's 6 and Thomas crashed over for the first tally. Whitley failed to convert.

The Lads kicked off to Ferris and the ball was put in play on thet visitors' 20. An attempted punt was blocked and the Lads recovered on the 18, then Sharpe passed to Whitley for 18 yards and a touchdown and the same pair combined to make the point after successful. Continuing their pass attack, the Lads quickly added a third score in the opening period on tosses from Whitley to Sharpe and Sharpe to Higgins, with Higgins making the tally. Sharpe went over tackle for the extra point.

Higgins Counted Again.

Early in the second period, Higgins intercepted a Jacket pass and raced it to the visitors' 15; Higgins scored on an end sweep a moment later after he had dropped back to pass and found all his receivers covered. A pass play was good for the extra point.

Between halves a baton drill was presented by the attractively costumed Ferris band and pep squad, and this was followed by an exhibition by the State Home girls' pep squad.

The Lads resumed their scoring spree early in the second period when Phelps crashed through on an attempted punt and recovered a fumble for a touchdown. A few minutes later, Thomas swept down the field for thirty yards to the Ferris 3, an offside penalty set the Lads back to the 8, and from there Whitley crashed over for another tally. In the final period, Higgins scored twice on short jaunts.

Starting Lineups.

BARBOUR BILL WILL AID PLANS OF NAVY TOWARD DEFENSES

BILL WOULD PROVIDE AVIATION BASE CORPUS CHRISTI COST $26,650,000

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Navy department spokesmen said today the bill by Senator Barbour (R-NJ) for new or expanded naval bases would carry out all save one of the recommendations made by a special board which studied defense needs for the mainland of the United States and its possessions.

The board of five navy officers headed by Rear Admiral Arthur J. Hepburn, last December recommended development of naval defenses to be concentrated at thirty bases.

The navy department shortly afterward recommended to congress than only part of the board's recommendations be carried out at that time and congress last April authorized the navy secretary to begin work on projects having a total cost of about $65,000,000.

Construction work is now under way on many of these.

Senator Barbour's bill, introduced at the close of the special session, would have congress authorize at its next session the work recommended in the Hepburn report which was not previously authorized.

In some cases the authorizations given by congress last April did not cover the full amounts needed to carry out recommendations of the board. The Barbour bill in 13 instances would make up the difference between the amount ureviously authorized and the total estimated cost.

Senator Barbour omitted from his bill provision for development of Guam, which the Hepburn report recommended at a cost of $50,296,000. Barbour urged this project be considered separately because of its controversial character.

To Cost Quarter Billion.

Barbour's bill would authorize projects to cost in all about $250,820,000. His aides said the measure was introduced during the special session so that action to speed it through congress could be started immediately after the opening of the next regular session in January.

Pensacola, Fla., aviation base, $9,755,000 in Barbour bill. Of this total, $5,850,000 expenditure was authorized by congress last April, making $3,905,000 additional expenditure proposed.

Jacksonville, Florida, and Bahama River, Florida, aviation base, $23,978,000 in Barbour bill. Of this total, $17,000,000 expenditure was authorized by congress last April, making $6,976,000 additional expenditure proposed.

New projects in the Barbour bill for which no authorizations have been made by congress, include:

Balbour, Canal Zone, submarine base, $5,235,000.

Corpus Christi, Tex., aviation base, $26,650,000.

The Barbour bill proposes the approximate cost of each project may, in the discretion of the navy secretary, be varied upward or downward not more than 25 per cent, but the total cost for all projects of $250,020,000 may not be exceeded.

NEW RECORDS FOR TAX COLLECTIONS SET MONTH OCTOBER

RECEIPTS WERE CHECKED IN AT $237,476.72 BY TAX COLLECTOR

New records for tax collections were set in October.

Receipts for October, including state and county ad valorem and poll taxes, amounted to $237,476.72, according to a statement made Monday by T. A. Farmer, assessor and collector of taxes. HEALTH, BEAUTY AND POISE

HOW TO IMPROVE YOUR PERSONALITY

By VERONICA DENGEL

YOUR MANNERS

Table manners can be so graceful and effortless when one is properly trained in the early years. Mothers who calmly permit careless habits at the table during childhood with the offhand remark: "Oh, they'll learn when they get older," make a grave mistake. It is never too early to instill such important habits; and frankly, it is easier to learn the right thing in the beginning than to become accustomed to one method, and then painfully have to correct mistakes later.

The simple rule about eating soup is a good instance. One sees people take the soup on the spoon, and turn the spoon so that the front end touches the lips. This is not correct. Soup should be eaten from the side of the spoon. A child can do this easily. Another point is to remember to take up the soup with the spoon moving away from you (as shown in the picture) not bringing the spoon toward the side of the cup nearest to you.

So many young people, just starting out in the adult world, are suddenly made aware of the fact that their table manners leave much to be desired; and are self-conscious and awkward as a consequence. Guarding the health of a child is only part of a Mother's duties; and even though it takes extra time and attention, keep urging your children to observe the rules. It may seem irksome and unnecessary to them for a while, but they eventually will be grateful for your insistence.

NEW NEUTRALITY BILL EXPLAINED THROUGH QUESTIONS, ANSWERS

WHAT ALL RUMPUS HAS BEEN ABOUT IN CONGRESS PAST FEW WEEKS

By D. HAROLD OLIVER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Here are some questions and answers about the neutrality revision bill which was before President Roosevelt for signature today:

Q. What is meant by embargo repeal?

A. The new bill repeals the 1935 law banning shipments of arms, ammunition, and other implements of war, including planes, to warring nations. Administration forces contended the old law discriminated against peaceful nations, preventing them from obtaining weapons when attacked by well-armed powers.

Q. What does "cash and carry" mean under the new legislation?

A. It means that belligerent governments and private firms and individuals in countries at war may obtain arms in the United States only by paying cash and transporting their purchases in foreign vessels.

Q. How about American shipping?

A. American vessels may not carry arms to a belligerent port anywhere in the world, except by inland waterway to Canada. Nor may they transport other supplies or passengers to any war ports in the North Atlantic, except New Brunswick and Nova Scotia ports on the Bay of Fundy, and Bermuda. This means they would be barred from visiting English, French or German ports on the other side and Atlantic ocean ports of Eastern Canada.

Carry Non-Military Cargoes.

Q. Could American ships go anywhere else.

A. Yes, they would be free to carry non-military cargoes and passengers to ports of warring nations in the South Atlantic, Pasific and Indian oceans, the China Tasman and Arabian seas, Bay of Bengal, South Africa via the South Atlantic, and all their "dependent" waters.

Q. Canada is a belligerent; how about general business with it?

A. All trade, including arms, may be carried on with Canada via inland points, either by American water, rail or air transport. Cash is required for arms orders.

Q. May commercial aircraft go elsewhere?

A. Yes. They may travel anywhere American ships are permitted to go and, in addition, to Newfoundland, as well as Bermuda, for trans-Atlantic crossing to neutral ports.

Q. What does transfer of title mean?

A. To avoid destruction of goods in which Americans hold some interest, the bill provides that no materials may be exported to the belligerents in Europe until title to them has been transferred to the purchaser. The customs collector must be given a sworn statement showing the transfer of title.

American Ships Exempt.

Q. Do American ships have to go through this red tape, too?

A. No. Non-military cargoes going to Canada and other exempted belligerent colonial ports in American vessels are exempt from the title section. So are such cargoes on other neutral ships, like those of Denmark and Holland, to such ports. However, destruction of American vessels and cargoes may not be made the basis for any claim put forward by the United States government.

Q. What about combat zones?

A. In addition to the ports closed by statute to American shipping, the president may designate other combat or danger zones through which American vessels may not go. Cargoes going into such areas in neutral ships, other than those of the United States, come under the title transfer requirement.

Q. How about loans or credits to nations at war?

A. The bill forbids loans and credits to belligerent governments, but non-military goods still may be sold on credit by private firms and individuals to private purchasers in warring countries. Running accounts of communication companies may continue. Belligerent governments may not float securities in the United States. Neither may funds for such governments be solicited here, except to provide medical and other aid to relieve suffering.

Q. May Americans travel on ships of belligerents?

A. Generally, no. But the president may make some exceptions to this.

Q. May American merchant ships be armed?

A. Only small arms, deemed necessary for the preservation of discipline, are allowed.

Q. May belligerent vessels enter American ports?

A. The president may in his discretion bar submarines and armed merchantmen from our ports, interne violators, and require such ships to post bond against carrying fuel, arms, men, supplies or information to any belligerent vessel.

Q. What would happen if a belligerent merchantman flew the American flag to deceive the enemy?

A. Such ships would be barred from American ports or territorial waters for three months.

Q. How does the legislation apply to Western Hemisphere republics?

A. It does not apply unless, like Canada, they co-operate with a non-American state in a war.

Q. What is the initial step in order to ship arms abroad?

A. A license has to be obtained from the munitions control board in Washington. This board must report to congress twice a year on all licenses granted.

Q. Suppose some one violates the new legislation?

A. He would be subject to a maximum fine of $50,000 and five years' imprisonment if he violated the shipping and title transfer clauses, and a $10,000 fine and two years' imprisonment for infraction of the other sections.

Q. When does the bill take effect.

A. Whenever the president or congress finds a state of war exists between two or more foreign states and decides invocation of the statute is necessary to protect the peace and security of the United States.

GUY GIBSON GOES TO DALLAS TO HAVE INJURIES TREATED

Guy M. Gibson, who was slugged recently in Dallas by other motorists and his jaw fractured, had to return to Dallas Monday for the resetting of the jaw, which the doctor claimed had a compound fracture.

Mrs. Gibson, in recounting the experience, said it was one of horror. She stated that she and Mr. Gibson paused at a stand for a cold drink, and that Mr. Gibson had received some change. Shortly after a car almost sideswiped their car and the driver became very abusive to Mr. Gibson. The men in the other car then turned to Mrs. Gibson with more abuse and Mr. Gibson alighted from his car and as he did so he was slugged with what the Dallas police declared was brass knucks. Mr. Gibson was completely knocked out, Mrs. Gibson screamed and attracted a crowd and during the excitement the other car drove off and the car number was not obtained by anyone.

The incident happened in the outskirts of Dallas, Mrs. Gibson said that they did not know just what the object of the attack was.

Emhouse Blanked Powell Six 29-0 Friday Afternoon

The Emhouse Pirates invaded Powell Friday afternoon and defeated the Panthers by the decisive score of 29 to 0. Tre Pirates unleashed a bewildering passing attack that gained a great deal of yardage for them. All of the touchdowns were the results of passes.

The Panthers managed to hold the Pirates' ground plays to reasonably short gains, but the Pirates' passes proved to be the undoing of the Powell team. The greatest threat of the Panthers' offense bogged down on the Emhouse 6-yard line when they lost the ball on downs.

The Pirates kicked off to the Panthers and after the ball was played interchangeably by the two teams, a Pirate crossed the Panther goal line for a touch down after receiving a pass. The try for points by a drop kick was successful giving Emhouse the lead at the end of the first quarter with a score of 8 to 0.

Many Fumbles

In the second quarter both sides fumbled and both sides intercepted passes. Finally the Pirates kept possession of the ball long enough to drive over the Panther goal line for another touchdown when they had completed a short pass. The ball was drop-kicked between the uprights for two more points. The first half ended with Powell on the short end of a 16 to 0 score.

In the third quarter the Panthers completed a few passes to gain several yards, but the gains did not bring them close to the Emhouse goal line. The Pirates were more successful with their repeated passing attack. A Pirate back received a 14-yard pass on the Panthers' 18-yard line and the fleet carrier sprinted down the side lines for the remaining distance for Emhouse's third touchdown. The Panthers blocked the drop kick for the try for points. The third quarter ended with the Panthers trailing the Pirates 22 to 0.

The fourth quarter was a repetition of the first three in which Emhouse completed more passes for the fourth touchdown and another pass was completed for the extra point.

Powell made her greatest threat to score near the middle of the fourth quarter when she made a first down on the Emhouse 8-yard line; however four Panther tries to cross the goal line were unsuccessful. The Pirates took possession of the ball on their own 6-yard line. It looked as though Emhouse was going to break her record of making one touchdown in each quarter when a Pirate received a pass deep in his own territory and galloped to near the Panther goal line where he was overhauled by an alert Panther back. Another Pirate pass was incomplete over Powell's goal when the whistle blew and the game ended leaving the score for Emhouse 29 and Powell 0.

The starting lineups were:

Emhouse—Drain, le; Thompson, c; Jackson, re; Elkins, qb; Tinker, hb; Harrell, fb.

Powell—Davis, le; Holcomb, c; Burton, re; Ficklin, qb; Gilcrease, hb; McKinney, fb.

Substitutes, Emhouse—Farmer, Burns, Morehead, Allen. Powell—Massey, E. Shelton.

Officials of the game were:

PRESIDENT SIGNED ACT ENDING EMBARGO ON SALE OF ARMS

MEASURE DESIGNED KEEP UNITED STATES OUT OF WAR IS NOW LAW

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—(AP)—President Roosevelt signed into law today "the neutrality act of 1939," ending the embargo on arms sales to France, Britain and Germany and establishing a neutrality policy designed to keep the United States from being drawn into the war in Europe.

The new law, strictly regulating all dealings with belligerents in a series of safeguards against war unprecedented in the nation's history, was signed at a formal ceremony in the president's office in the presence of Secretary Hull and a large group of legislators.

Press Secretary Stephen Early stood at the open door and waved to newspapermen in the lobby when the chief executive affixed his signature shortly after noon.

His signing of the bill gave a signal which some officials expected to result in the placing of $1,000,000,000 worth of war orders in this country—mostly by France and Britain—within the next few weeks.

Signed at 12:04 p. m.

The bill was signed at 12:40 p. m., Eastern Standard time.

A second later the chief executive signed a proclamation putting the law into effect immediately by re-declaring this nation's neutrality in the war between Germany, and France, Poland, the United Kingdom, India, Australia, Canada, New Zealand, and the Union of South Africa.

Another proclamation signed at the same time regulated the use of American ports and territorial waters by belligerent submarines.

Both of these proclamations had been issued under the old neutrality law, carrying the arms embargo, which was repealed by the new statute.

Necessary to Issue Proclamation.

It was necessary to issue a new neutrality proclamation because the new law, as had the old, provided the neutrality program should become operative whenever the president found a state of war existed.

The chief executive used two pens in signing the historic document. He gave one to Chairman Pittman (D-Nev) of the senate foreign relations committee, and the other to Chairman Bloom (D-NY) of the house foreign affairs committee, who steered the legislation to passage at a special session which ended early last night.

There was much laughter in the president's office during the ceremony, the president's laugh especially being heard in the lobby of the executive offices.

Pittman, who had remained for a conference with the President after the ceremony, told reporters that he saw no need at this time for establishing combat zones from which American ships would be prohibited.

Reporters crowded around and asked him about any expected proclamation which would lay out such zones under the new act. Ships would be prohibited from voyaging in them.

"Why should we establish any?" Pittman asked. "Our merchant ships are prohibited from trading with belligerents now. Of course they can go to Holland and other neutral ports."

Might Produce Incident.

Newsmen suggested that sinking of an American ship in waters near England, France or Germany might produce "an incident" which the bill was intended to prevent.

"There is no need for combat zones unless the belligerents engaged in unrestricted submarine warfare against neutrals," Pittman said.

Despite Pittman's assertion that proclamation designating combat areas was unnecessry at this time, the White House reiterated an earlier announcement that a proclamation on this phase might be forthcoming later in the day.

The President invited A. A. Berle, assistant secretary of state, to an afternoon conference to go over a third proclamation.

The Allied powers were expected to begin moving across the Atlantic almost immediately some 300 airplanes completed for them by American companies since the embargo went into effect, soon after the war began.

To Remain at Peace.

At the state department Secretary Hull expressed "firm belief" in praising the new neutrality law that the United States will succeed in remaining "secure and at peace."

Hull said in a statement that he was gratified at congress' action in lifting the arms embargo and added he was satisfied that the new legislation will "greatly assist" in preserving American neutrality.

Congress gave its final approval to the repeal legislation yesterday and ended the 44-day special session called by the chief executive to repeal the four-year-old arms embargo law, which he said had worked to the disadvantage of powers unable to obtain munitions near home because of geographical circumstances.

Over the vigorous protest of a substantial bi-partisan opposition, the legislature agreed to repeal the ban on arms sales to warring nations but wrote into the bill some of the most stringent regulations of American shipping in the nation's history. The latter were designed to avoid "incidents" and possible subsequent involvement of this country in the European conflict by keeping ships and passengers out of danger zones.

Both Branches Approve

The senate adopted the final draft of the bill 55 to 24, the house shortly afterward by 243 to 172. With little of the back-slapping and noisy finishes customary at regular sessions, the senate then voted 46 to 25 to adjourn and the house 223 to 189, both ballots being largely along party lines. The session ended formally at 6:35 p. m., (E. S. T.) when the house called it a day.

While the last parliamentary touches were being applied, the white house announced the president would sign the bill around noon today at a formal ceremony. Proclamations and executive orders putting the new law into effect were ready. Mr. Roosevelt hoped to leave for Hyde Park, N. Y., during the day to vote in his home town elections Tuesday.

He had written farewell messages—which were read to the senate and house—expressing congratulations and good wishes and the hope that "world events" would not make necessary another extraordinary meeting of the lawmakers before the regular session began Jan. 3. The messages were addressed to Vice-President Garner and Speaker Bankhkead and signed "F. D. R."

NEW BAZETTE WELL TO BE DRILLED IN SOMETIME THURSDAY

Casing was set and cemented early Monday in the Topaz Oil Company and Butler-Calhoun No. 4 Tramel in the Bazette area and the latest potential producer is scheduled to be drilled in Thursday, according to information available in Corsicana.

A drill-stem test late Saturday showed considerable oil recovered from the sand penetrated at 3011-28 feet, considerably lower than located in the two original wells.

It was reported operators set casing around 2975 feet in order to take advantage of some higher strata of sand encountered above the main producing section.

Renewed activity in the Flagg Lake field across the Trinity river from the Bazette field was reported Monday with announcement of a new Texas Company location at the south end of their lease.

As a disappointment became more apparent over the fact that the United States had, in effect, made available vast war supplies for Germany's enemies the foreign office mouthpiece, Deutsche diplomatisch-Polotische Korrespondenz declared the new law places a "serious responsibility" on President Roosevelt.

This commentary contended that a desire "to buy profits with blood and the prosperity of other peoples" was the only consistent policy of a group of former war profiteers.

yesterday when Norway rejected a Nazi protest.

The American crew, however, has not yet been permitted to come ashore.

Norway based her rejection of German protests over release of the ship and detention of its German crew on the argument that international law had been observed strictly in making the decision.

Threatened to Sink Ship

BERGEN, Nov. 6.—(AP)—(Via Radio)—Captain Joseph A. Gainard, describing the capture of the American freighter City of Flint by a German prize crew, today said his captors threatened to sink the ship if his men gave them "any trouble."

"This is a war measure," he quoted the German lieutenant as saying. "And whether any of us like it or not I must carry out my orders."

The German prize crew, Captain Gainard said, was armed with pistols, hand grenades, bayonets, a machine gun, and other weapons.

The American skipper recounted his experiences in a broadcast to the United States over an NBC network.

CALL SESSION

omnibus proposal passed by the house at the regular session. It would put a sales tax on luxuries and boost national resource and cigarette imposts. During the regular session, proponents estimated it would yield about $17,000,000 a year.

O'Daniel had promised to announce in his regular Sunday radio talk whether he would call a session to boost taxes.

The announcement was in effect that he did not believe anything would be accomplished by a session and he would reconvene the legislature only if and when he became convinced they would pass a tax bill raising many millions in additional revenue.

Some legislators believed the chances of a special session had been lessened. Others still thought, however, there would be one although possibly not until after January 1.

The governor disclosed he had written a letter to legislators saying in substance:

"The letters which I have received from members of the legislature convince me that the members will not agree to pass a temporary statutory measure similar to the one and only revenue-raising measure which received a majority vote in the house and senate at the last session (the sales-natural resource tax constitutional amendment).

"I am therefore inviting every member of the legislature who believes he has in mind a plan of raising a sufficient amount of revenue to fully finance old age pensions, teacher retirement, aid for dependent children, and aid for the blind, to draft a bill which will accomplish this purpose; secure the signatures of a majority of the house to this bill; secure statements from a majority of the senate that they would vote for the bill, and then place the bill on my desk.

"If this is done, I will immediately convene a special session of the legislature for the purpose of enacting such bill into law. This is an urgent matter but I want to allow plenty of time to obtain these signatures and suggest that all replies reach me by Nov. 18 so I can announce decision on my program Nov. 19."

Constitutionality Doubt.

DALLAS, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Rep. Dallas Blankenship of Dallas today expressed doubt as to the constitutionality of Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel's latest proposal to pledge a majority of the legislature to a tax measure for financing social security.

Blankenship, in an interview, pointed out that under the constitution, all citizens have the right of petition, and that this includes the right to appear at a public legislative hearing, to express their views for or against any measure which that body might have up for adoption.

He said that if a majority committed themselves to any particular measure ahead of the assembling of the legislature, they might be faced with a situation where they would either have to disregard their commitments, or the wishes of the public as expressed at a hearing. This, he felt, might be construed as denying the citizens their constitutional right of petition.

FRENCH

action was general on both sides along the 100-mile northern flank but French attention was riveted to the south because of the apparently first German attempt to cross the Rhine.

Another strong German force attempted to storm a French post in the Vosges mountains but a French counterattack halted it these sources said.

The French sent three air patrols over German lines yesterday in an effort to determine Nazi intentions.

The French regarded German artillery activity primarily as a Nazi test but also noted it was increasing steadily.

French economic experts said today Germany was attempting to close European supply sources to Great Britain and France in hope of offsetting the allied blockade and the United States' repeal of the arms embargo.

They expressed skepticism however, whether Germany could organize such a "continental blockade."

BASEL, Nov. 6.—(AP)—School bells rang today for thousands of French children in the Alsatian cities of Mulhouse and Colmar, shadowed by the Maginot line defenses and dominated by the big guns of Germany's west wall forts.

Encouraged by continued quiet along the Rhine front, French authorities deferred plans for removal of the civilian population from those two cities and ordered resumption of many normal peacetime activities.

Gov. Culbert L. Olson, who opposes this plan although he supported a different "ham and egg" proposal in his campaign last year, urged adoption of a state oil control law.

National politics cropped out in the race for the Kentucky governorship. Although state issues held principal attention, Circuit Judge King Swope, Republican, criticized Roosevelt policies in his campaign. Gov. Keen Johnson, who became chief executive this fall when A. B. Chandler resigned to go to the senate, campaigned on the Chandler-Johnson record of administration.

Other Elections.

In Mississippi, Judge Paul B. Johnson, a Democrat, is unopposed for the governorship.

In Philadelphia party prestige became an issue in the race for mayor. Former Judge Robert E. Lambertson, Republican, argued that a Democratic victory would weaken the Republicans in national prestige. Supporters of Democrat Robert C. White argued that national issues were not at stake.

pro-Nazi elements, emphasized his apparent determination to lessen his German entanglements and hoe his own row.

It has been generally understood that the Italian chief is trying to form a "neutral" bloc among the Balkan states. He is said to have been making progress, too.

What stumps most observers is why Herr Hitler should have risked the Polish war when he had things coming his way without it. He already had political-economic control of all eastern Europe and the Balkans because of his monopoly of a large part of the trade of that great area.

One thing seems very clear—he's got to trounce a lot of people in order to regain the ground which he held so firmly in the Balkans and Eastern Europe. Just winning the current war wouldn't turn te trick and put things back where they were.

Federal Prisoners Recaptured

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 6.—(AP)—Two or eight federal prisoners who escaped from the Henrico county jail here last night were retaken while walking on a Raleigh, N. C., street early today.

Detective Captain Bruce Boole of Raleight said the pair identified themselves as Gerald Montague, 21, of Paducah, Ky., and James Gibson, of Alexandria, Va.

Virginia police and the F.B.I. continued search for the other prisoners who opened a hole through the jail wall and slid to freedom down a rope of blankets.

RUSSIAN

"principal 'achievement'" of capitalism was to involve half the population of the world in war, counting the British and French controled empires and the Japanese-Chinese war.

He accused the British and French ruling classes of doing "their utmost to protract and extend" the war "with the purpose of utilizing it to consolidate their world supremacy."

The Communist International today attacked the "American bourgeoise" for repeal of the arms embargo and called on workers of Great Britain and France to "go against those who favor continuation of imperalistic war."

It issued a sharply-worded manifesto, occupying four front-page columns in Pravda, communist party newspaper, as the U. S. S. R. began a three-day celebration of the 22nd anniversary of the communist revolution.

"The bourgoise of the so-called neutral countries," the Internationale said, "warm their hands near the fire of war x x x under the mask of neutrality they become rich on military supplies.

Interested in Developing War.

"The American bourgeois, very interested in further developing the war, repeals the embargo on the export of arms in order to secure huge profits to the kings of the munitions industry."

The manifesto, signed by the International's executive committee, urged the workers of the world to unite to "defend the Chinese people, to go against those who favor continuation of war and unmask the mas helpers of imperialists."

Britain and France were accused of oppression in India, Indo-China and Arabia and of "keeping half the world in the chains of colonial slavery."

"The bankers in London and Paris will preserve the worst reactionary regimes in Europe," the manifesto added.

"The Italian bourgeoise waits only for a convenient moment to throw itself on the oppressed and have its share of the spoils."

Praised Soviet's Power.

The statement praised Soviet Russia's power and said that "when the Polish state ceased to exist the Soviets gave a helping hand to their brothers in the Western Ukraine and White Russia, taking 13,000,000 out of war and delivering them from oppression."

Britain and France, the manifesto said, are trying to involve the Balkans in war, but it declared, Russia will "disturb" this plan.

As Russia embarked on the gigantic celebration of the revolution, a Finnish delegation waited on the sidelines, a series of vital talks with Soviet officials apparently temporarily suspended.

Scheduled as the principal opening day event of the nationwide observance was a memorial "rally" at the opera house tonight, at which Premier-Foreign Commissar Vyacheslaff Molotoff was expected to deliver an important address dealing with Russia's foreign policy.

Tomorrow morning thousands of troops and workers will march through Red Square in review before Joseph Stalin.

From the channel coast came news that two "explosions" sank the 5,295-ton freighter Nicolaos M. Embiricos, carrying a cargo of grain from Galveston, Texas to Antwerp. The captain and crew of 26 were rescued.

Much Tonnage Afloat

LONDON, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Authoritative naval sources said today that Britain has 18,500,000 tons of mercantile shipping afloat, despite the loss in the first two months of the war of 55 merchant ships totaling 238,795 tons.

An admiralty spokesman said that during the same period seven "allied" ships totaling 47,933 tons and 32 neutral ships totaling 77,674 tons were sunk. He said that so far in November two neutrals totaling 16,149 tons were sunk.

Most of the ships lost were sunk by German submarines, he said, although some were victims of mine explosions.

crude petroleum and fuel oil on an annual quota of imports not in excess of 5 per cent of the total quantity of crude petroleum processed in refineries in the Continental United States during the preceding calendar year. The other concessions granted to Venezuela consists chiefly of guarantees continued duty-free entry on fuel oil used for vessel bunkers and on a list of tropical or semi-tropical products of which Venezuela is a supplier."

The department asserted that "upon entry into force of the agreement with Venezuela, our trade with that nation and the other 19 countries with which trade agreements are now in effect will constitute about 60 per cent of total United States trade with the world."

The agreement has been under negotiations for more than a year. Since May 12, 1938, trade relations between the two countries have been regulated by a provisional commercial agreement providing for reciprocal unconditional most-favored-nation treatment.

Today's agreement supplants this arrangement but continues and strengthens the provisions for unconditional most-favored-nation treatment and in addition provides for reciprocal tariff concessions.
